

Foster Care

Beautiful Bengal cats like me are in shelters, often kill shelters, because there aren't enough foster homes to go around. If you have a spare room with a door, a Bengal, like me, can live there and get lots of love from you, his foster family, while waiting for a permanent home.

Please go to: www.greatlakesbengalrescue.com and choose Volunteers - How To from the menu, so you can find out how to become a GLBR foster home and help other Bengals like me.

We are always looking for volunteers to foster homeless Bengal cats. Our foster homes are the back-bone of the Great Lakes Bengal Rescue.

Great Lakes Bengal Rescue

Great Lakes Bengal Rescue is an all volunteer organization dedicated to finding homes for Bengal cats that have been surrendered to shelters, rescue organizations, or found as strays. GLBR covers a ten state area and helps in other states as we are able.

Adoption applications can be downloaded from the website and emailed to the GLBR coordinator, Janet Saltzman, bengalgirl2@yahoo.com

A BIT ABOUT GREAT LAKES BENGAL RESCUE

- Great Lakes Bengal Rescue's (GLBR) mission is to find loving, permanent homes for Bengal cats who've been given up to GLBR.
- GLBR is an all volunteer rescue within the Great Lakes area. We serve the following states: Arkansas—Illinois—Indiana—Iowa— Kentucky— Michigan—Minnesota— Missouri—Ohio and Wisconsin
- Our volunteers are Bengal enthusiasts from around the Great Lakes area. We are always looking for more volunteers from fellow Bengal lovers. Our fosters are Bengal cat lovers from all walks of life, together we share our love of the breed and desire to save feline lives.

When you contact GLBR you will most likely speak to our main coordinator, Janet Saltzman. As the main coordinator, Janet oversees adoptions, surrenders, transports, the website, foster/adoption contracts and issues on a regional wide basis.

Our fosters, the people who house and care for our rescues, know the cat inside and out, and will be your primary contact for questions about the cat's temperament, behavior and their experiences with the cat thus far.

How To Support Bengal Rescue

- Financial; Expenses involved in caring for, fostering, vetting, etc. are typically 100% more than the adoption fee. Consider assisting rescue with a monetary gift!
- Fosters; Those willing to provide temporary housing for a homeless Bengal cat and provide love and a stable environment until a permanent home is found.
- Toys, food/litter coupons, etc. These things add up and it can benefit the fosters as well as new owners to have some of the basics provided.
- Adoption; The ideal assistance for a rescue in need is a permanent home! We realize not everyone can provide a home, but ask you to consider some of the other ways you can help!
- Subscribe to Bengals Illustrated via The International Bengal Cat Connection www.bengalcatconnection.com ~Every subscription supports Bengal cats in rescue and you'll get a great magazine too!
